

SAUNTERINGS

From Where The West Begins.

By JOHN T. MEYERS.
For The Sea Coast Echo.

LITTLE Dolores Salinas, five-year old tot, played about her home last Sunday. Gleeefully, she romped from one childish pastime to another. Dolly, Kitty, and the comic section of the newspaper, each in turn amused her for a while. Daddy was home from work, and would take her to the park in the afternoon. Perhaps, Baby Dolores hummed a childish lullaby as she pictured the pretty dress she would wear, and the big ice cream cone Daddy always bought for her.

THIS happy scene was enacted before the little tot discovered a box of matches within her reach.

Unaware of lurking danger, Dolores played at striking matches. She had seen Mother and Daddy do this many times. No harm came to them. But the innocent child did not realize the angel of death fluttered nearer with each match lighted by her tiny hand. Somehow a flame quickly set little Dolores' dress ablaze. Her agonized screams attracted her parents, who beat out the flames, and frantically rushed the child to a hospital. Doctors did all in their power to save her life. The burns were so severe. She died—another tender victim of misplaced matches.

A ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Parents should exercise every precaution to keep poisons, kerosene, matches and fireworks out of a child's reach. Children should be repeatedly warned against these dangers—so often fatal.

CORRECT-me-if-I'm-wrong Dept.: Pike's Peak was named for General Z. M. Pike who discovered the mountain in 1806. The Andes range in South America—4500 miles long—is the longest mountain range known. Specimens of America's first newspaper, "The Boston News Letter," published in 1704, are still preserved.

William Jennings Bryan was first nominated for the Presidency at the age of 36 years.

LAYING an egg is just part of a day's work in the life of the average barnyard hen. But producing an egg measuring 6½ inches around and 8½ inches in length is something worth cackling about. The oversized egg, weighing better than a quarter of a pound, was the accomplishment of a Marble Falls, Texas hen.

THREE Mexican youths taken into custody by immigration officers explained their illegal presence in the United States was due to a peaceful "siesta" atop a passenger train. The young hobo trio crawled upon a coach in Monterrey planning to steal a ride to Nuevo Laredo, Mexico. Escaping detection when the train crossed the international bridge at the border, the boys claimed they did not awaken until arrival in San Antonio. The sound-sleeping tourists were deported.

IT isn't often firemen have fires delivered to their door—a burning automobile proved the exception. When Jesus Huart's car caught fire downtown, he drove to central fire station and shouted for help. Firemen quickly extinguished the flames.

A DOWNTOWN beer place has a large sign over the entrance that reads: "Ye who enter here abandon all hope."

"Invite us to your next blowout," is the signboard plea of a popular garage.

First prize—a butter knife—was awarded the laundryman who solicited our business with the following (promise or threat)—"We cut your laundry in half."

Then there's the pressing shop slogan: "Come clean with us and we will gladly dye for you."

Shooting a dove one day before the season opened cost an eager San Antonio hunter a $10 fine and court cost $21½ which is pretty expensive game viewed from any angle.

FROM Texas game laws: Unlawful to hunt or kill any game bird or game animal one-half hour before sunrise and one-half hour after sunset.

Unlawful to hunt from an automobile motorboat, sailboat, boat under tow, or an airplane.

THOSE two Texas girl flyers in Chicago attempting to break the woman's endurance record are to be complimented on their pluck and determination. Three times have Jean Larene and Mary Elizabeth Owens gone aloft. Tough luck has been a third passenger on each occasion. But they're "raring to thumb noses at the jinx, and head for the clouds as soon as weather permits. Lots-of-luck, gals.

CITY SCHOOLS TO OPEN MONDAY OF NEXT WEEK

REGISTRATION TO-DAY

City Supt. S. J. Ingram Announces Dates—Information For General Public Interested—Expect Large Enrollment.

City Superintendent of schools S. J. Ingram announces registration and classification of pupils at the city schools will be held today—Friday, September 7, beginning at 9 o'clock. And that regular classes for the '34-'35 session will be resumed Monday following, September 10.

Afternoon vocational school will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons of each week, from 2 to 7 o'clock, and registration for these classes will also be received at Central School.

"We expect this year's enrollment to exceed that of any year," said Supt. Ingram, "and we are glad to see our schools progressing and expanding. Last year we had an unusually heavy enrollment, taxing our room and teaching facilities to considerable extent. However, we don't mind the work, just so long as we can do it thoroughly and procure utmost results. There is a large number of children who will enroll for the first time this season, according to general report."

"It is important that pupils register and classify today and that we begin work Monday."

24 BOATS LABOR DAY REGATTA

Windjammer Yacht Club of Bay St. Louis Holds Successful Event—The Winners

Under perfect conditions, and with a good breeze blowing, twenty-four sailboats crossed the starting line of the second annual Labor Day regatta staged by the Windjammer Yacht Club. Boats from all along the Coast took part, with members of the local Yacht Club winning in three of the seven classes. The winners in the various classes were:

In the snipe class, Chappy Marshall sailed the "Calle" from last, caused by a bad start to first, nosing out the "Marina" sailed by C. A. Breth, Sr. This race was very close up to the last, as each of these boats passed each other several times.

In the large sloop class there were two cups at stake, the first boat to finish was the "Cinderella," owned and sailed by John McDonald, and right close behind was the "Interference" owned and sailed by Tommy Earl. The "Interference" finished third. In the cat boat rated seven and over, the "Hottentot" owned by the Holly Brothers of Biloxi breezed in to first place, and made the best time of any boat on the course. This will clinch the title of Gulf Coast champion for this boat.

In the catboat class of fifteen to seventeen the "Gigolett" sailed by Joe Moran came in the winner, while the Sea Fox captured the fifteen under class. In the small sloop class the fast "Flirt" of Pass Christian won over the "Swan," owned and sailed by Hoke Ogden. The Flirt is owned and sailed by Rip Terrell of Pass Christian. In the sailing Dinghy Class Roger M. Boh won over two other Dinghies, one sailed by David McDonald, and the other by Jimmie Ogden, these last two named turned over. It is generally thought that Roger Boh is the youngest skipper to ever receive a trophy on the Coast, as he is just eight years old.

The trophies were awarded immediately after the race by Commodore Chas. A. Breth, Jr. The Coast Guard boat number 302 served as the judges boat, with Captain Baum, and his men ready for any emergency that might come up. The Judges were Mr. W. L. Bourgeois and H. Grady Perkins.

A friendly argument between the shipper of the Flirt, and the in-

in the Urschel kidnapping case, are reported enroute to the seaside penitentiary. Special armored cars, with heavily armed guards, and ample guards, armed to meet any emergency, transport the federal prisoners. Secrecy surrounds their travel schedule.

VISITORS FAVOR THE GULF COAST

Labor Day Week-End Attracted Thousands To Enjoy Vacation—Unprecedented Numbers

New Orleans, in a comparative sense, must have been deserted for Labor Day week-end. Everybody who could possibly get away must have gone out of the city for the three-day period of recreation.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast received its full quota of such welcome visitors, and the Bay-Waveland section was favored with ever-increasing numbers. Never has it been known for this section to entertain so large a number for any week-end. Early Friday afternoon and evening the auto caravan from New Orleans began and the exodus from the city continued until Saturday evening. Thousands of cars and their happy occupants, eager with anticipation, crossed the Louisiana line into Mississippi. And on Sunday afternoon and that evening the tide of travel turned the other way—back to normalcy and work again! But the trip to the incomparable coast was worth it.

In addition other sections through Louisiana report the same number of visitors. Grand Isle and the country in general entertained unprecedented numbers.

However as a whole, we are satisfied the Gulf Coast entertained the larger number. Traffic became so congested on the Bay auto bridge that it was necessary for city authorities to change the time of "red and green traffic light."

And better than all no accidents occurred. It is remarkable that in a rush with thousands of new cars on pleasure bent little or no untoward incident along traffic lanes occurred.

Our people were glad to welcome the visitors. May they come again and more often.

500-Pound Sea Turtle Is 'Catch' of Adam and Son in Bay Waters

Sylvest Adam and father, Philip Adam, well-known residents of Cedar Point vicinity of Bay St. Louis, report a catch of a 500-pound sea turtle in the waters of Bay St. Louis this week.

Mr. Adam and son were crossing the waters of the bay, opposite Paradise Point, when they noticed an object apparently floating on top of the water. Investigation proved this to be a turtle of monstrous size, they report. After much fighting they managed to get a grip on one of the legs.

Sylvest says the battle was really a thrill and pleasure and proved a "sweet time."

"It was impossible to put him in the boat," said Sylvest to The Echo, "for we tried that repeatedly, and nearly swamped the boat. So we, father and myself, decided to tow him in, and was this a job? We could not make the turtle understand that we wanted to go ashore—he wanted to go out and we had to follow him for a while until he became tired and willingly followed our inward course. Aside of the fact we came near drowning and sustained several bruises everything turned out all right and we finally landed our 'catch' ashore."

ACKNOWLEDGMENT TO MISS AMES FOR COURTESY

The Junior Recreational work department of Hancock county wishes to acknowledge and thank Miss Ames and associates for courtesies in extending complimentary admissions to children of the county who would otherwise be deprived of this educational and recreational pleasure.

Incense arose about the speed of the two machine sloop, the two boats will race Sunday evening. This should make a good race, and at least it will be hotly contested. A fleet of Gulfport boats arrived too late to take part in the races.

MRS. C. C. McDONALD SPEAKS AT STATE SCHOOL CONFERENCE

Addresses Mississippi Conference of Parents and Teachers at Columbus Last Friday

Mrs. C. C. McDonald of Bay St. Louis, state president of the Mississippi Congress of Parents and Teachers, addressed the State Conference of Home Economics Teachers Friday at Columbus. This conference, under the direction of Miss Esther Rogers, vocational home economics director of the state department of education and chairman of home making and rural service of the state P. T. A., was in session all of last week working especially on the curriculum revision program. Mrs. McDonald's address was on the subject of Styles and Values. Mrs. J. A. Evans of Bay St. Louis, exhibit chairman of the Mississippi P. T. A., accompanied Mrs. McDonald.

While in Columbus Mrs. McDonald conferred with Mrs. W. F. Bruce, director of the department of health of the state P. T. A. and Mrs. Ledbetter of the Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs, relative to the joint plan of the two organizations for cooperation with the state welfare department in social service clinics to follow up on the rehabilitation survey of handicapped persons. The plan aims to bring about thru these clinics the rehabilitation of many handicapped persons and render them capable of eventual self-support.

LOCAL BANKS RECEIVE INSURANCE SIGNS THAT SERVE INFORMATION

Federal Deposits Corporation Points to Benefit of Plan—Depositors Insured

Hancock County Bank and the Merchants Bank & Trust Company both of this city have received from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation at Washington the official placards which will hang at all receiving windows that the respective depositors of these institutions are insured.

The Hancock County Bank and Merchants Bank & Trust Company are two of more than 14,000 licensed banks in the country which are receiving these signs. Insured banks are able to offer protection to their depositors up to $5,000. Statistical studies have shown that this maximum fully protects more than 97 per cent of all the depositors in insured banks.

A statement by the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation follows: "The purpose of the signs is to let depositors know which banks are part of the licensed banks are insured, depositors have had no easy means of identifying them."

"If, by any unforeseen circumstance an insured bank should suspend, the Insurance corporation would begin paying off the depositors just as soon as a receiver was appointed for the closed institution. The depositors would receive their money in a few days instead of waiting months or years, as was the case in the former method of liquidation. This is not only a benefit to the depositors, but it saves the community from a terrific economic and social blow. When the depositors receive their insured accounts they assign their claims to the Insurance corporation. Therefore liquidation proceeds on a business-like basis with the maximum chance of the corporation and other creditors being paid in full."

E. H. Bacot of Pascagoula, was elected president of the Mississippi Seafood Commission at its annual meeting held at Biloxi, Monday, time for the regular annual meeting. He succeeds R. N. Blaize of Bay St. Louis as president, who held the office to the general satisfaction of all concerned and whose services on the board and to the seacoast have been of immeasurable value.

Other officers elected include Dr. M. R. Mosley, Biloxi, secretary; George Smith, Pass Christian, attorney, and Louis Staehlin, Biloxi, chief oyster inspector. Mr. Staehlin has held this office for 16 years. Deputy inspectors include Charles Wentzell, Biloxi; D. The boat is upon the ways at Pascagoula, where a new engine is being installed. When launched an inspection of all the reefs will be made. Oysters are said to be in good condition and plentiful.

The running season will not open until the commission decides upon a definite date. The raw shipping season has given work to several hundred people since opening last Saturday, it was reported at the meeting.

The Commission also adopted an ordinance allowing no shrimp to be caught for canning purposes except those making 40 or less to the pound.

Dr. D. H. Ward, of Bay St. Louis, recently appointed by the governor to be commissioner from Bay St. Louis and Hancock county was present and officially seated as a member.

Winners in the first flight were Don Zimmermann, of New Orleans; runner-up, Joseph Hymel, of New Orleans.

Second Flight—Robert L. Genin, winner; runner-up, J. C. Rich of Biloxi; consolation, J. A. Jarrett, of New Orleans.

Low medalist—Jake LeBourgeois, of New Orleans.

Mr. Genin, the Bay St. Louis winner, received a handsome trophy, an ornament of appropriate design, which he has given position on his desk.

Other Bay St. Louis players, it is reported were close contestants, two reaching the semi-finals and others comparatively close. Many visitors from along the Coast and elsewhere visited Pine Hills each day and watched the progress of the players.

Pine Hills Country Club house was opened to the players and quite a number spent the three-days there, receiving housing and boarding, an arrangement by Manager Dedaux that was appreciated by the men who were keen on the game and wished to remain on the scene of pleasure, skill and possible triumphs.

Board of Supervisors To Raise Funds To Pay Amounts Allowed

In accordance with Section 5977 of the Code of 1930, Board of Supervisors of Hancock county has promulgated its intention to issue bonds in amount of $30,000 in order to raise funds whereby all pay warrants allowed may be paid. These warrants will be dated September 1, 1934, and will be in $500 denominations, to bear 6 per cent interest, and to mature in one, two and three years.

As a result of the depression the county has failed the past two or three years to collect the bulk or customary amount of its tax income, hence it has been short of cash, and bills allowed for which warrants are to be issued when money is in the treasury, will be cashed with proceeds of the bond sale.

With improved conditions, and already collections show a marked improvement, it is expected there will be sufficient revenue to retire the bonds, as they will fall due.

This action of the Board will meet with general approval as many people over the county who have rendered services at due various amounts. These sums have been allowed and await payment.

PINE HILLS FIRST GOLF CONTEST

Three-Day Tourney Closed Monday Afternoon—R. L. Genin a Winner

More than ordinary interest was evinced in the 3-day golf tournament at Pine Hills—Saturday, Sunday and Monday—when the first regular golf contest was held in a number of years. Ideal weather prevailed the entire period of the contest and many splendid players from New Orleans, along the Coast and Bay St. Louis participated. Manager S. H. Dedaux of the course expressed great satisfaction at the success of his first regular tournament and players were unanimous in similar expressions.

Winners in the first flight were Don Zimmermann, of New Orleans; runner-up, Joseph Hymel, of New Orleans.

SAFETY ON THE ROADS.

THE American railroad industry has made a record in promoting safety, both for passengers and workers, that is the envy of the world.

Even in pre-war days the railroads were a safe industry—and since then they have reduced accident fatalities by more than half. Passenger and employe fatalities in 1933, for example, were but one-seventh of the number occurring in 1913. Only grade-crossing accidents, which are almost invariably the fault of the motor vehicle involved, have risen.

Much railroad work is necessarily of a potentially dangerous kind. Yet, last year, the fatality rate per million man hours touched the infinitesimal level of 0.22.

This is indicative of the progress the American railroads have made in a hundred directions, all the way from promoting safety, to speeding up trains and making them more comfortable. The purpose of the rails is to give the American public the best, safest, cheapest and most efficient transportation service in the world, and they have succeeded. They are entitled to a fair return.

SURVEY YOUR MIND

THE average citizen would not be hurt by a careful analysis of his or her mental state. While we usually like to boast of our intelligence the fact is that few of us ever try to do more than assert our opinion, many of them picked up years ago and never tested since that day.

Seekers after truth, if such there be, should resolutely attempt to master the new facts that detailed research has revealed in all important lines of human thought. Philosophical inhibitions, if still conscious, should, it seems, reset their theories in order to conform to facts.

To the many youngsters who enter high schools and colleges this fall, as well as to those who return to their studies, we call attention to the necessity of regarding their training as a starting point in the search for truth. When every graduate shall leave college with the clear understanding that what has been learned is nothing but the base of education we may put it down that our teaching is amounting to something.

SHORTAGE OF HOUSES

THE McComb Enterprise carries an editorial this week in which it calls attention to a distinct shortage in houses for general dwelling purposes and calls attention to owners that since rentals have fallen to nil that a reasonable raise would be justified, particularly since taxes and insurance have sky rocketed during the depression.

So far there is no shortage of houses in Bay St. Louis, but it might be well to note there are a number of dwellings that are far from habitable and repairs and painting, as well as renovation and added improvements, might render such places more desirable and command better prices. Many of the vacant houses (not in all cases, however,) fail to rent because of proper condition and convenience.

A HARD ONE TO ANSWER

THE editor of the Wilder Idaho, Herald says: "The point that is worrying ye editor is why the government should want to enter into any more business ventures at the expense of the taxpayers."

"We believe that if our lawmakers would exert more effort in reducing taxes and less in meddling with legitimate business, we would all profit thereby."

The surplus that we want to see reestablished in this country is the cash surplus in the pockets of the average citizen.

The world has need for all the goods that can be manufactured but somehow there seems to be difficulty in paying for them.

The human race unlike Gaul, is divided into four classes of people: wise ones, foolish ones, nuts and those who believe in campaign speeches.

It won't be long now before the people in Bay St. Louis who have been loudly extolling the virtues of cold weather will be howling about a severe winter.

The compliments that are accorded The Sea Coast Echo brighten up the lives of those connected with it but the dollars that come in are what keeps it and them living.

There are times when an individual decides to go a solitary way regardless of consequence and when this occurs you might as well mind your own business.

People who would pay no attention to an individual, listen with attention when he speaks as secretary or president of the American Something or Other.

WATCH THIS LEAGUE

THE birth of the American Liberty League has been announced. It will have some abstract principles in its platform but back of it all will be the purpose to perpetuate every form of special privilege hitherto enjoyed by big wealth, greedy industrialists, and scheming financiers. The people of these United States should keep their eyes on the League, watch its every move, hunt out its hidden motives each time it acts, and refuse to be fooled by any propaganda it might put out. And, believe us, the American people will have a job doing this very little thing.

It is very easy to get the drift of the new Liberty League. Plank 1 is respect for "rights of persons and property," and Plank 2, after some side-issues, is to "preserve the ownership and lawful use of property." The planks are not so bad abstractly but they will be used to stifle every progressive step to reform business and finance, to protect unjust privilege accumulated through the years, and to cripple governmental efforts to develop great projects rather than let them be usurped for private gain. It will be a Tory organization from start to finish, and it will be supported by lavish contributions from those who have special privilege and position to maintain against growing social criticism. Well-supplied with money, benefitted by previous experience of another similar organization which undertook and secured repeal, the American Liberty League will launch its propaganda. It will be fighting not for the American people, not for liberty, or any other abstract principle, but it will be battling for selfish, greedy interests of its sponsors. And, there won't be many people who will know exactly what sponsors are putting up the cash, nor how much.

GAS FOR THIS SECTION

THE issue for gas for general utility use is ever present and property owners of better houses find it difficult to procure proper tenants due to the absence of gas connection. While on the other side of the bay, the entire coastal section, is served with the fuel that means so much as contributing factor to better and more economical living.

People do not come to Bay-Waveland during the summer to swelter in kitchens, even though people are hired to thus serve. They do not seek a place where running hot water is procured through arrangement that serves as an ordeal and expensive and then not satisfactory. Winter residents would rather live here if the warmth of the gas heater was ready at hand whenever desired. Truly, we are at great disadvantage, while every coast town is equipped and served with gas.

This is a question that should not be allowed to rest for fear it might die. The Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce some time back made a heroic effort in this direction. But the conditions placed by the company seeking to come in were such as to seem demanding too much as an initial earnest.

If there are hidden reasons why gas is excluded from Bay-Waveland there should be an effort made to reveal the cause. If gas can be procured there is no reason why it should not be forthcoming. The public is willing and will subscribe.

Let not the matter remain dormant. May we look to the city commission to take the initiative?

WHY THOUSANDS VISIT THE COAST

THE exodus from New Orleans and other adjacent points to the Mississippi Gulf Coast Labor Day week-end exemplifies the desirability and popularity of the coast section as a place of recreation and for general vacation pursuit.

It is pointed out that New Orleans, a center with practically a half million population, cannot find in closer juxtaposition a place of easier accessibility, less time consumed in travel and a greater change of climate and scenery than this section.

It is then no wonder thousands found way out into the open spaces of the gulf shores and enjoyed the week-end in recreational past time. Chief attractions, in addition to the gulf atmosphere are salt water bathing, miles after miles of perfect hard surfaced roads through stream and forest to delight the motorist, ample and attractive hotel accommodations, ample and varied seafood edibles, golfing, tennis, fishing and dancing for the young and others socially inclined.

A great place, with its combined and composite advantages, ought to attract many times more people and not only on Labor Day or Fourth of July holiday periods but practically every week-end if not all the time.

There is a great future in store for this incomparable stretch of land with its salt-laden breezes and piney woods balm-laden breath. Purest ozone and purest drinking water.

A PUBLIC PARK

It has long been the dream of Bay St. Louis residents to some day point with pride to a public park, a place where one may spend a while and enjoy all that such place offers. Trees, shade, lawns, benches, drinking water, swings, etc.

The city of Bay St. Louis and its mayor and commissioners are gradually evolving such place, surrounding the city hall and we hail such an improvement with more than ordinary acclaim.

It is noted, that while many improvements from time to time have been created, the latest, nearing completion, is a tennis court. Recreation and athletics go hand in hand. There are many devotees of the racket and net hereabouts but nowhere to play. In the immediate future such place will have been completed and presented for public use.

Our city park is not the largest in size possibly that other towns may boast of, but it is certain that it is fully equipped and forms a most charming spot for rendezvous.

May the laughter of little children bless the beautiful spot daily that the city is generously preparing and ready to give the public. It will be dedicated to their use and pleasure.

(Jackson Clarion-Ledger)

A GRACEFUL exit is a step forward. One statesman said that politics is like a hammock in that there is no graceful way to get out.

Senator John Lumpkin is by no means out of politics, in our opinion, as served well as state senator and made a good race for Congress with the strongest kind of opposition, including the present incumbent who is reelected by Mr. Lumpkin's withdrawal. This shows how strong he is with the people of his district.

By this act, however, he ties even stronger to him those friends who have stood by him and who are really interested in him. He evidently advised with these friends and wise indeed is the man who can listen to the best judgment of himself and his friends rather than be led by motives other than his own best interest and the best interest of the people.

Naturally, Mr. Lumpkin's friends would have stayed with him through the second primary, but the five thousand lead that his opponent had would have been most difficult to overcome. As it is, Mr. Lumpkin an this friends can well be proud of the race he made and look forward to future political activity. Mr. Lumpkin might have won had he remained in the race, but the odds were apparently against this happening. Had he gone on and run the race out and been defeated, the political ties that he now probably has and probably such future as he may look forward to would have been seriously impaired.

The vote that Congressman Colmer received was sufficient to indicate that the people approve of his record and services, though Mr. Colmer received a majority in but three of the sixteen counties of his district. Mr. Lumpkin's withdrawal demonstrates his willingness to bow to the wishes of the people of his district and while he probably never intended that this act of withdrawal should have a political significance for himself, nevertheless the public appreciates a man who knows public sentiment and has the good graces to bow to such.

Senator Lumpkin has made a graceful exit from the Congressional race and a decided step upward in public opinion.

OPINIONS ON NEW PICTURES

(Opinions are based upon the reports of P. S. Harrison, noted New York critic, whose reviews serve as confidential guides to theater men all over the United States.)

"Judge Priest" (Fox) with Will Rogers.

An excellent comedy which will be enjoyed by the whole family. It is simple, dealing with plain people. Will Rogers is at his best, appearing as a Southern country judge, who not only arranges love affairs, but runs the town court disposing, of cases, as he sees best. The interest is kept up well throughout the film.

"Romance in the Rain" (Universal) with Roger Pryor, Heather Angel and Victor Moore.

A light romantic comedy, of the Cendrillon variety, with music, which will probably appeal more to women than to men. It is gay and the comedy of Victor Moore will keep the audience chuckling. The romance is fairly appealing.

"Once to Every Bachelor" (Liberty Pictures) with Marion Nixon and Neil Hamilton.

Fair entertainment for adults. The good performance by an able cast saves it from being just ordinary entertainment, since the story is not particularly new. However, because of sympathy felt for the heroine, the interest is held throughout.

"Their Big Moment" (RKO) with Zasu Pitts and Slim Summerville.

The few bright spots in this comedy-drama of spiritualism are the laughs provoked by Zasu Pitts as the fumbling assistant of a fake magician; otherwise, the plot is trite and far-fetched, with many dull spots. The audience is held in fair suspense during the closing scenes, not knowing how the villain would be trapped.

"Treasure Island" (MGM) with Wallace Beery, Jackie Cooper and Lionel Barrymore.

This will thrill both young and old who are familiar with the novel, and even those who have never read the book. The production end is marvelous, the acting is of the highest order, and it is exciting, adventurous and human. Excellent for all types of audiences.

"Dames" (Warner Bros.) with Joan Blondell, Ruby Keeler, and Dick Powell.

This does not come anywhere near the heights reached by "Footlight Parade," or "42nd Street" in production or entertainment values. Three-fourths of the picture is used as a prelude to the musical scenes that follow. However, the music and dancing in the latter half of the picture is good and are done on the lavish scale usual with numbers created by Busby Berkeley.

WASHINGTON NOTES

ROOSEVELT'S VACATION

President Roosevelt is spending a few weeks at the Hyde Park home of his mother. He will keep in touch with affairs at Washington through temporary offices established in nearby Poughkeepsie.

PERMANENT CCC

The law creating the CCC will expire on March 31 but officials believe it will become a permanent institution and that Congress will have little opposition on such a development.

THE POWER SURVEY

Schedules are being sent to power companies and municipal plants throughout the country in order to secure information for the power survey of the nation.

MORE EMPLOYED

Considerable difference of opinion exists regarding the number of unemployed and little attention has been paid to the number of employed. Estimates by the National Industrial Conference Board show 42,353,000 working in June 1934 compared with 36,675,000 in March, 1933.

13 P. C. GETTING RELIEF

There are about 3,600,000 families and 500,000 additional individuals receiving unemployment or drought relief throughout the United States. This is about thirteen per cent of our population.

NEW NRA PLAN

The NRA is trying to work out some plan to put hundreds of thousands of men to work before winter sets in in order to avoid extra relief burdens. One suggestion is to remove production restrictions in codes and another to change hours and wages such as was done in the cotton garment code.

With The Movies And Film Folks.

To the delight of many movie fans Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter are to be co-featured again by Fox in "One More Spring" which is scheduled for immediate production.

Irene Dunn who hasn't been seen so recently on the screen, has signed a contract with Warner Brothers and for her first vehicle will appear in the film version of "Sweet Adeline," by Jerome Kerne and Oscar Hammerstein.

If the story is as good as the cast, MGM's "Forsaking All Others," is destined for a great success. Joan Crawford, Clark Gable and Robert Montgomery are to head the cast which is being assembled. This is the first time that these three popular stars have been seen together although Clark Gable and Joan Crawford were together in "Possessed" and "Dancing Lady."

Buster Keaton, according to news emanating from France, is making his first non-American film. The first French-made is called "Le Roi des Champs Elysees," and will be released earlier in November.

Gary Cooper and Anna Sten are to be teamed together in Samuel Goldwyn's "Broken Soil." It is the story of the son of a proud Englishman and his romance with the American-born daughter of a Polish tobacco grower.

Fox is said to be quite pleased with the work of Gloria Swanson, who is appearing in a comedy role similar to those of her earlier pictures in "Music in the Air," a musical comedy. John Boles is appearing opposite Miss Swanson, in the cast which includes June Lang, Douglas Montgomery, Al Shean, Reginald Owen, and others.

Paramount will try to get Helen Hayes to appear in another Cecil de Mille spectacle, "The Crusaders."

Elizabeth Bergner is to have the leading role in the film version of the London play, "Escape Me Never," which will be produced in England and released on this side of the Atlantic by United Artists.

Columbia officials seem unable to definitely decide who is to have the feminine lead in "Georgiana," a musical production. One announcement gave the part to Nancy Carroll and another said that Ann Sothern had been selected. Either would be highly acceptable to movie goers.

Walter F. Wagner, who produced "Washington Merry-Go-Round," and "Gabriel Over the White House," is planning another similar picture to be called, "The President Vanishes." This picture is said to be a "trifle more New Deal-ish."

Ben Lyon, Polly Moran, Pert Kelton, Chick Chandler and Skeets Gallagher have already been signed by RKO-Radio to appear in "Lightning Strikes Twice," an original comedy by Ben Holmes and Marion Dix.

Warners is rushing production of "Firebird," in which Verree Teasdale, Lionel Atwill and Richard Arlen are appearing.

George O'Brien, who has appeared as the hero of many Westerns has gone to London to film "The Cowboy Millionaire." The cast, with the exception of Mr. O'Brien, is being assembled.

Mrs. Laura Lester, her son Mr. Frank Lester, and granddaughters Peggy and Jean who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Rühr have returned to their home in Omaha, Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilson have returned after several months stay in Panama. They brought back two Ti-Ti monkeys and a Costa Rican squirrel for Mr. Mollere's Zoo.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. The tour included visits to the British Empire Building and La Maison Francaise, with a trip to one of the Roof Gardens; the famous promenade and Sunken Plaza; the Concourse, sub-surface shopping level; the Great Hall of the RCA building and description of the Sert and Brangwyn murals; the RKO building and lobby; the Foyer and Grand Lounge of the Radio City Music Hall, world's largest theater, and the Foyer and Grand Lounge of the Center Theater. Mr. and Mrs. Pitcher were guests of the Rockefeller Center in the Roof Lounge, where tea and coffee are served to visitors.

BARN DANCE BY MR. AND MRS. J. W. LODWICK ENJOYABLE AFFAIR.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lodwick, who occupy the former Wisner home, on South Beach Boulevard, were host and hostess Sunday night, in celebration of Labor Day week-end, a barn dance in which some one hundred guests participated.

The number was made up largely of house guests from Houston, Texas, and also New Orleans many residents both of Bay-Waveland and a number of the younger folk from local ranks.

Costumes appropriate to the occasion were worn and only square and other "country dances" were the order of the evening. The program and every arrangement was fully in keeping with the spirit of such a dance and the evening proved one of unusual enjoyment.

Mr. Hubert de Ben left a few days ago for Los Angeles, Calif., to join Mrs. de Ben and their talented young daughter, Melanie, who are motoring back home from a summer's stay in Southern California, and are expected home shortly. Acquainted along the route, particularly at El Paso they will visit at several places. Miss Melanie is the 7-year-old grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John de Ben beach summer residents of Bay St. Louis.

The Ever-Welcome Club had its last meeting with Mrs. Wolfe. Every one reported such a good time, and the delicious refreshments were "last but not least" of the enjoyments. The next meeting will be with Mrs. T. Ed. Keller.

A social event of much interest to the youngsters was the birthday party given by Mrs. Speer in honor of her daughter Francis. Eleven little girls and one little boy were the happy guests on this thrilling occasion.

Many interesting games were enjoyed. The most exciting time was the lighting of the ten candles on the pretty cake, and the serving of the ice cream, cake and candy. Many pretty and useful gifts indicated the popularity of the charming little honoree. The guests were, Emily Keller, Helene Kergosien, Iris and Beverly Davis, Doris Odum, Jane Wolfe, Betty Bea Fleetwood, Aubrey Toes, Betty Thornton, Shirley Fargo, Leola Fargo and Jimmy Sylvester.

CELEBRATE FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY AT NEW ORLEANS

Captain and Mrs. C. B. Fischer Have Had a Long and Happy Span of Married Life—Splendid Family of Six Children Live to Honor Parents

(Meigs Frost in N. O. Times-Picayune)

Saturday was the golden wedding anniversary of Captain and Mrs. Conrad Beauregard Fischer of 910 South Carrollton avenue, New Orleans. If those names don't strike the chords of memory for the old-time rivermen, lumbermen, bankers, who read them, then the name "Captain Cooney" Fischer will. Some-where on the Mississippi river in the 1880s, Conrad Beauregard Fischer was nicknamed "Cooney" Fischer, and the name sticks today when he is 73 and Mrs. Fischer is 72.

Not Retired Husband

"I'm a retired riverman, a retired lumberman, a retired banker," said Captain Cooney Fischer, "but by the great horn spoon, I'm not a retired husband. Not with a wife like Mrs. Fischer. She's been a good partner. I'm mighty glad we were able to travel to the golden wedding milestone together. If we could keep traveling 50 years more, it would be all right with me."

"He's been a good husband," is her accolade at the end of their first half-century of married life. But beyond that Mrs. Fischer won't talk for newspapers. Running her home is a wife's business, she believes.

At their golden wedding celebration dinner Saturday night, Captain Cooney Fischer and his bride of 50 years ago raised their glasses of champagne and toasted each other. And their eyes shone very gently with memories of how lucky they've been.

Telegrams Pour in Six children born to them. All six still live. Five grandchildren clustered around them Saturday. Their six children were too widely scattered to get back to New Orleans, but telegrams kept fluttering in like golden petals of flowers.

It was August 11, 1884, when Captain Conrad Beauregard Fischer ("Yes, sir, my daddy named me for one of his heroes; old General Beauregard") and Miss Elizabeth Hoen were married by the Reverend Father Bickelmeier at the home of the bride's father, John Hoen, a business leader in uptown New Orleans.

Bride and bridegroom were "War Between the States babies," she born in 1862, he in 1861. But already he was a veteran river captain at 23 when he faced the altar. He had been on the river since he was 17, in his father's steamboats and his father's great sawmill, the "old Fischer sawmill" up at Carrollton avenue and the river.

The six children born of that wedding were:

Hazel Irving Fischer, now Mrs. William D. Hays of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Florence B. Fischer, now Mrs. James E. Routh of Atlanta, Ga., wife of a physician.

Nellie B. Fischer, now Mrs. George Arthur Seaver of 1219 Eleonore street, New Orleans.

Frederick Fischer, now in the mahogany lumber business in Panama.

Miss Elizabeth Fischer, principal of the high school at Alturas, Cal.

Miss Grace Fischer, a commercial artist in New York City.

The five grandchildren are: Elizabeth Seaver, 12; Arthur Seaver, 10; John Seaver, 7; Frederick Fischer, 3, and John Fischer, 7, the two latter up from their home in Panama with their mother for the golden wedding celebration.

Captain "Cooney" Fischer lives in Mississippi river history as the man who piloted "the biggest thing that ever floated on the Mississippi" from the mouth of the Atchafalaya river to New Orleans at Carrollton avenue. That was a cypress log raft of 2009 great cypress trees. It took two big steam-wheel towing steamers to take it, the Henry Marks and the Arthur Lambert. The raft got too big for the river at Bayou Sara and had to be split into a slimmer, longer raft. It cut up into just a little less than 5,000,000 board feet.

at the "old Fischer Sawmill." It was worth $150,000 then. It would be worth $300,000 even today, says Captain "Cooney" Fischer. It took 200 men to make that tow, he remembers proudly.

Through his steamboat and lumber interests, Captain Fischer was on the boards of directors of several New Orleans banks of a generation ago.

"I suppose you might say I'm in politics, too," he chuckles. "I've been a member of the Democratic party for 52 years and never held an office yet."

MERELY THEORETICAL

By GEORGE E. SCHILLING

THE LIBERTY LEAGUE

THE newspapers and the politicians have been very much excited about this new organization, so that it is well worth looking at. The new outfit has any quantity of money, and plenty of prestige, skill, publicity and everything that is required to make a great political organization, except, possibly, votes. Whether it can get the votes or not is the one doubtful point.

The Liberty League is evidently an attempt to organize property-holders against both the Roosevelt New Deal policies and the more extreme radicalism of such men as La Follette, Wagner, Long and Sinclair. It is said to be financed by Irene DuPont, who can easily afford it, even in these hard times, and to be led by Al Smith, John W. Davis, James W. Wadsworth and Nathan Miller, thus making it bi-partisan, or non-partisan. An enemy remarked that it is made up of two ex-Democrats, two ex-Republicans and an angel. The president is J. Louis Shouse, formerly executive chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

The leaders evidently represent important money, that is figures running into the hundreds and thousands of millions—figures so large that they mean no more than those in astronomy. Unimportant money is to be divided up into seven groups, as follows: house owners, farmers, labor, savings depositors, life insurance policy holders, bondholders and stockholders. If you belong to any of these groups you are a prospective member of the league. If you do not then they have no use for you. The idea is to organize the "haves" against the "have-nots."

There is more charming to the American ear than liberty, so the new group starts out with a good name. They apply it, however, to economic liberty, not to political liberty. Of course they claim that they are the only true supporters of the Constitution, for that is a part of all good conservative propaganda. It is an oddity to hear a lot of hard-boiled Republicans appealing to the political principles of Thomas Jefferson against a Democratic President and Congressional majority.

The program of the league seems to be the removal of restrictions on business and, probably, also, the lessening of taxes for relief. There is a strong aversion to the alphabetized agencies which cost much money and limit the liberty of men to buy in the cheapest market and sell in the dearest. This seems to agree perfectly with platform of the Republican party, at least of the dominant Eastern wing of that party. The lig-ide of both is to do nothing, but to leave everything to natural law, that is to luck and business.

A great deal can be said for the Liberty League, and we may confidently expect that it will all be said and explained at length. Property-holders have full rights to organize and to present their case to the public as well as they can. It is very useful to have an organization representing a great class of our citizens and supporting their interests and their rights. Reformers and progressives have strong tendencies to run wild unless they are checked. Well lined brakes on the wheels of progress are important for the general welfare.

The organization will obtain a great deal of support, but nobody knows how many votes it will be able to muster at the polls. A revival of business would easily give it a majority, if that revival were sufficient to restore faith in the old economic order. A continuance of the depression will undoubtedly keep it in a majority. In any case it will have the active support of a very large part of the wealth of the country, together with that of the little brothers and sisters of the rich. This group is a very small minority, but very powerful and very smart, in some ways.

In addition to the very wealthy and their retainers it will command the following of a much afraid of losing what little they have. It may also count of the friendship of great numbers of conservatives, that is of people who dislike change. It is very doubtful, however, whether it will ever be able to reconcile the difference between the seven groups into which it has divided the middle classes. Most of us, including the Liberty Leaguers, are strongly in favor of legislation that favors us at the other fellow's expense, but no less strongly opposed to laws that favor the other fellow at our expense. There are such conflicts to be considered.

To the Voters—I wish to thank all my loyal friends for their votes and support in the primary just ended.
